CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

OLC 75-2058
22 August 1975

Mr. James M. Frey
Assistant Director for Legislative Reference
Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D. C. 20503

Dear Mr. Frey:

This submits proposed legislation in accordance with Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-19, revised. Enclosed are six copies of a draft bill, "To amend the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act of 1964 for Certain Employees, as amended, and for other purposes." Also enclosed are copies of a sectional analysis, a comparison with existing law, a cost estimate, and drafts of the letters of transmittal to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Title I of the draft bill concerns the financing of the CIA retirement system. The provisions in Title I are based upon those approved for the Foreign Service system in Public Law 91-201, as adopted from applicable law for the Civil Service system, Public Law 91-93. They also conform to revisions proposed for the Foreign Service system and transmitted to the 94th Congress.

Title II of the draft bill conforms the CIA retirement system to changes concerning survivor annuities, increasing certain annuities, and retirement credit for periods of separation for work injuries approved by the 91st, 92nd, and 93rd Congresses for the Civil Service retirement system. Title II also proposes adoption of the provision in the Civil Service system under Public Law 89-554, to waive recovery of payments in certain instances. Other proposed adoption of changes to the Civil Service system include crediting, as military service, certain prior service for specified periods in the Public Health Service and Coast and Geodetic Survey (now functionally within the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration), as approved by Public Laws 86-415 and 87-233, respectively. Also included is a revision of the requirement to designate or change a beneficiary as approved by Public Law 89-373. Further, Title II proposes an administrative procedure to facilitate the comparable adoption by the Agency system of future changes in the Civil Service system which are substantially identical to provisions in the Agency system.

MORI/CDF Pages 3-33 &

The Central Intelligence Agency Proposed Legislative Program for the First Session of the 94th Congress, which was transmitted to OMB by letter dated 15 November 1974, covers this proposed legislation under item 94-2, with the exception of the waiver of recovery of payments, crediting of certain prior service, and the requirement to designate a beneficiary. In addition, all of the provisions in Titles I and II, previously submitted to OMB for clearance by letter dated 2 October 1973, are included in this proposal with up-dating changes in the funding proposal (Title I).

Cost estimates for the financing proposals in Titles I and II of the draft bill are set forth in the enclosed as obligations to be met by the Secretary of the Treasury. The proposals in Title II would not require any new budgetary authority as all payments would be made out of the CIA Retirement Fund.

Advice is requested as to whether there is any objection to the submission of the proposed legislation to the Congress from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

Sincerely,

Acting Legislative Counsel

21 widower is entitled to an annuity equal to 55 percent of the

1 amount of the participant's annuity computed as prescribed
2 in paragraph (a) of this section, up to the full amount of 3 such annuity specified by the participant as the base for
4 such survivor benefits at the time of retirement. The annuity
5 of the participant shall be reduced by 2 1/2 per centum of any

11 benefits under chapter 81 of title 5, United States Code, or any earlier
12 statute on which such chapter is based shall be counted whether the 13 person returns to duty before, on, or after January 8, 1971. With 14 respect to any person retired before such date of enactment, any such
15 part of a period of separation shall be counted only upon application
16 of the retired person.

17 (e) The amendment in Section 208 to credit certain service in 18 the Public Health Service is effective as of April 8, 1960 and the 19 amendment to credit certain service in the National Oceanic and Atmos-

SECTIONAL ANALYSIS AND EXPLANATION

TITLE I--FINANCING

Section 101 amends section 111 of the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act of 1964 for Certain Employees, as amended, to add three definitions concerning the funding of the System:

"Fund balance" is defined as the par value of securities in which retirement money is invested plus the uninvested cash remaining in the Retirement Fund.

"Unfunded liability" is defined as the estimated amount needed to finance all benefits payable from the Fund less the money now in the Fund and to be placed in the Fund in the future.

"Normal cost" is defined as the level percentage of payroll required to meet the cost of benefits payable under the System, less the expenses attributable to service performed under another retirement system.

The preceding definitions are necessary for implementing subsequent provisions of the bill; definitions comparable to the first two were adopted by the Civil Service Retirement System under section 101(3) of Public Law 91-93; the normal cost definition is similar to that proposed for the Foreign Service system.

Section 102 amends section 261 of the Act to add three new paragraphs concerning the funding of the System:

New paragraph (b) authorizes appropriations to the Fund in equal annual installments over a 30-year period to finance any newly created unfunded liability incurred by the enactment of future legislation, or the exercise of authority based on statute, including benefit improvements for active employees, extension of coverage to new groups of employees, general salary increases, and any new statutory annuity increases (other than automatic cost-of-living adjustments). Interest would be required to be included in these amortized payments at the rate used in the then most recent valuation of the system.

New paragraph (c) provides for direct appropriations, under permanent indefinite authority, to be made to meet that portion of the normal cost of the System which is not being currently defrayed by contributions. This paragraph would direct the Secretary of Treasury to report to the President and to the Congress, the sums credited to the Retirement Fund under this section.

New paragraph (d) provides for direct appropriations, under permanent indefinite authority, to be made to meet the Government's obligations for: (1) the present unfunded liability which arises from legislation already enacted, authority based on statute already exercised plus any that may arise as a result of Title II of this bill, and (2) the cost of military service credit. New paragraph (d) would direct the Secretary of Treasury to pay into the Fund each year: (1) interest on the unfunded liability computed for that year at the interest rate used in the then most recent valuation of the System, and (2) that portion of disbursement for annuities for that year which the Director estimates is attributable to credit allowed for military service. Payments under this paragraph would commence on June 30, 1976, at 60 percent of the prescribed amount. An additional 10 percent would be paid in each subsequent year until, in 1980 and in each subsequent year, 100 percent of the prescribed amount would be paid. The Director would be required to report to the President and to the Congress the sums credited under this procedure.

Provisions identical to new paragraphs (b) and (d), except for appropriate updating, were adopted for the Civil Service by sections 103(a) (2) and 103(b) of Public Law 91-93 and for the Foreign Service by sections 104(a) and 104(b) of Public Law 91-201. A provision similar to new paragraph (c) has been proposed for the Foreign Service system.

TITLE II--RETIREMENT ACT AMENDMENTS

Section 201 removes dependency requirements from the definition of the term "widower" and thereby conforms the Act to the requirement of Public Law 92-187 concerning equality of benefits for married women Federal employees. As a result, widowers of female participants or retirees will be accorded the same benefits as widows of deceased male participants or retirees. Section 201 also changes the definition of child to include an adopted child who is under a petition for adoption at the time of the participant's death and makes such child eligible for survivorship benefits if the surviving spouse proceeds with the adoption. Section 201 further changes the definition of "widow" and "widower" to reduce from two years to one year the marriage requirement to be entitled to a survivor annuity and thereby conform the Act to Public Law 93-260.

Section 202 does five things:

First, it amends the current provision for annuity for surviving spouse to whom the retiree was married at the time of retirement by authorizing payment of that annuity to a subsequent spouse. The spouse acquired after retirement must qualify as a widow or widower as those terms are defined in section 204 of the Act as amended by section 201 of the bill.

Second, it authorizes a survivor annuity for a widow or widower of a retiree who was unmarried at the time of retirement, subject to the election of a reduced annuity for this purpose by the retiree pursuant to section 203 of the bill.

Third, it requires the surviving spouse, widow, or widower to elect between the benefits afforded under section 202 of the bill and any other entitlements to survivor benefits from a retirement system for Government employees.

Fourth, it provides for the commencement and termination date for the survivor annuities provided under section 202 of the bill.

Finally, it provides that annuities reduced to provide for a surviving spouse shall for each full month during which an annuitant is not married, be recomputed and paid as if the annuity had not been reduced. Upon remarriage, the annuity would be reduced by the same percentage as in effect at the time of retirement. All annuities are covered except no increase in annuity may be made for any period prior to November 1, 1974. This conforms the Act to Public Law 93-474, which became effective October 26, 1974.

Section 203 provides a retiree who is unmarried at the time of retirement with an irrevocable election to select a reduced annuity and provide, under section 202 of the bill, survivorship protection for a spouse acquired after retirement. The election must be received within one year after the marriage and voids any election made at the time of retirement for a survivor annuity for an individual with an insurable interest as authorized under current law (section 221 of the Act). The retiree's annuity is paid at the reduced rate starting with the first day of the month following receipt of the election.

Section 204 imposes a minimum retirement annuity based upon the Social Security minimum primary insurance amount and conforms the Act to the requirements of Public Law 93-273, which increased certain annuities and was signed into law April 26, 1974. The annuitant's monthly benefit would not be increased to such minimum if the individual receives any other periodic payment from the United States Government of a similar nature, including, but not limited to, social security, annuity, other civilian or military retired pay, pension, or veterans compensation, and the monthly rate of such periodic payment equals or exceeds the smallest primary insurance amount which may be in effect from time to time.

Section 205 changes the "Death in Service" provisions of the Act (section 232) to remove the dependency requirements currently attached to the payment of a survivor annuity to a widower of a female participant who dies in service. The changes are compatible with the changes made in the definition of the term "widower" under section 201 of the bill.

Section 206 amends Section 241 of the Act with regard to filing designation of beneficiary for the payment of contributions and interest in excess of benefits received to survivors of participants under the Act. The amendment states clearly that the order of preference set out in that section shall prevail over any extraneous document designating a beneficiary unless the designation has been received by the Director. This conforms the Act to a similar provision in the Civil Service Retirement system under Public Law 89-373 approved March 23, 1966. The provision was sought by the Civil Service Commission to make clear that the statutory order of precedence prevails and avoid the problems of conflicting case law and resultant serious delays in paying insurance claims to survivors. Adoption of the provision by the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act will avoid these same problems.

Section 207 updates the citation in Section 251 of the Act. Section 207 also provides retirement service credit for periods of separation from Federal Government employment covered by employees' compensation for work injuries under 5 U.S.C. 8101 et seq.

Section 208 amends Section 252 of the Act to credit service in the Regular or Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service after June 30, 1960, or as a commissioned officer in the Coast and Geodetic Survey after June 30, 1961. This conforms the Act to Public Law 86-415, approved April 8, 1960, which credits, as military service under the Civil Service Retirement Act, certain prior service in the Regular or Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service after June 30, 1960, and conforms the Act to Public Law 87-233, approved September 14, 1961, which similarly credits under the Civil Service system service as a commissioned officer in the Coast and Geodetic Survey (now functionally within the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration).

Section 209 adds a new section to "PART G--MONEYS" to grant the Director the authority to waive recovery of payments from a recipient made under the Act if in the judgment of the Director the individual is without fault and recovery would be against equity and good conscience. This section also allows the Director to withhold or recover moneys mentioned under the Act from a former employee of the Agency where there is a finding and certification by the Director that the former employee exercised fraud. This section conforms the Act to a similar provision in the Civil Service retirement system (section 8346 of Title 5, U.S.C., Public Law 89-554), which became effective September 6, 1966. The necessity for this provision was highlighted as the result of the recent overpayment in cost-of-living increases for all Government retirement systems based on a miscalculation of the data utilized. This section would be made effective sufficiently retroactive to allow the Director to waive the overpayment to annuitants under the Agency's retirement system as was done by the Civil Service Commission in December 1974 for Civil Service retirees.

Section 210 adds a new "PART K--CONFORMITY WITH CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT SYSTEM" to the Act to authorize administrative changes in Central Intelligence Agency retirement provisions to maintain existing conformity between the Civil Service and Central Intelligence Agency retirement systems. Under this amendment, whenever a law enacted after January 1, 1975 amends a provision of the Civil Service retirement system or otherwise changes retirement benefits for employees or annuitants under that system which prior thereto had been substantially identical to a corresponding provision of law governing benefits payable under the Central Intelligence Agency retirement system, the President, if he determines it appropriate to maintain the previous conformity between the two systems could issue an order to apply the new Civil Service provision or benefit to the Central Intelligence Agency. This could be done retroactively in the interest of equity where necessary.

In addition to the applicability of this proposal to amendments of Civil Service retirement provisions that were substantially identical to corresponding Central Intelligence Agency retirement provisions immediately prior to enactment of the Civil Service amendment, it is intended that the proposal apply to amendments of Civil Service provisions enacted after January 1, 1975 but before enactment of this bill which were substantially identical either to corresponding Central Intelligence Agency retirement provisions when this bill is introduced or to Central Intelligence Agency retirement provisions as proposed in this bill.

Authority would not be available under the proposal to change a Central Intelligence Agency retirement provision that had not been substantially identical to the Civil Service provision prior to the latter's amendment. For example, if the present regular Civil Service multiplication factor, which is less than 2% for the first ten years of service, were increased, a corresponding increase could not be extended to the Central Intelligence Agency retirement system under this authority because the Central Intelligence Agency retirement system multiplication factor is 2% for all years of service. Neither could a change affecting only a special group, such as the change in the law-enforcement employee multiplication factor made by P.L. 93-350, be extended to the Central Intelligence Agency retirement system under this authority because this proposal would be applicable only to amendments of Civil Service retirement provisions applicable generally.

Section 210 is based upon a similar proposal in S. 1943, which amends the Foreign Service Retirement Act and was submitted to the 94th Congress. This authority would save appreciable man-hours within the Executive branch and the Congress now expended to process legislation to adopt separately for the Agency retirement system each applicable change in the Civil Service system. The change does not in any way abridge the right of Congress to enact future laws changing the Central Intelligence Agency retirement system provisions or benefits.

Section 211 increases annuities that occurred prior to October 20, 1969, and further conforms the Act to the requirements of Public Law 93-273, which authorized payment effective August 1, 1974. Retirees under the Act (and Civil Service retirees) prior to October 20, 1969, did not receive the liberalization in retirement computation made under Public Law 91-185, effective December 30, 1969. Under Public Law 91-185 the computation of annuities was changed from a high -5 years average salary to a high -3 years average salary and unused sick leave was counted as service for annuity computation purposes.

Section 212 provides effective dates in phase with those established for the Civil Service Retirement System in connection with identical changes. These dates assure that the treatment afforded retirees and their survivors under the CIA Retirement Act will not be different than that afforded retirees and their survivors under the Civil Service Retirement System.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

(b)(1) If a participant dies after having retired and is survived by a spouse to whom he or she was married at the time of retirement, or by a widow or widower whom he or she married after retirement, the spouse, widow, or widower is entitled to an annuity equal to 55 percent of the amount of the participant's annuity computed as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, up to the full amount of such annuity specified by the participant as the base for such survivor benefits at the time of retirement. The annuity of the participant shall be reduced by 2 1/2 per centum of any amount up to $3,600 specified by the participant as the base for such survivor benefit plus 10 per centum of any amount over $3,600 so specified.

(2) If an annuitant dies after having elected a reduced annuity provided in paragraph (2) of section 221(f), the surviving widow or widower is entitled to an annuity computed as prescribed in paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(3) A spouse acquired after retirement is entitled to a survivor annuity under this subsection only upon electing this annuity instead of any other survivor benefit to which he or she may be entitled under this or another retirement system for Government employees. The annuity of the spouse, widow or widower under this subsection commences on the day after the annuitant dies. This annuity and the right thereto terminate on the last day of the month before the spouse, widow or widower--

(A) dies; or

(B) remarries before becoming 60 years of age.

(4) An annuity which is reduced under this subsection shall, for each full month during which an annuitant is not married, be recomputed and paid as if the annuity had not been so reduced. Upon remarriage of the annuitant, the annuity shall be reduced by the same percentage reductions which were in effect at the time of retirement.

[[(b) At the time of retirement, any married participant may elect to receive a reduced annuity and to provide for an annuity payable to his wife, or her husband, commencing on the date following such participant's death and terminating upon the death or upon remarriage prior to attaining age sixty of such surviving wife or husband. The annuity payable to the surviving wife or husband after such participant's death shall be 55 per centum of the amount of the participant's annuity computed as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, up to the full amount of such annuity specified by him as the base for the survivor benefits. The annuity of the participant making such election shall be reduced by 2 1/2 per centum of any amount up to $3,600 he specified as the base for the survivor benefit plus 10 per centum of any amount over $3,600 so specified.]]

* * * * *

(f)(1) Any unmarried participant retiring under the provisions of this Act and found by the Director to be in good health may at the time of retirement elect a reduced annuity, in lieu of the annuity as hereinbefore provided, and designate in writing a person having an insurable interest (as that term is used in section 9(h) of the Civil Service Retirement Act (5 U.S.C. 2259(h))) in the participant to receive an annuity after the participant's death. The annuity payable to the participant making such election shall be reduced by 10 per centum of an annuity computed as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, and by 5 per centum of an annuity so computed for each full five years the person designated is younger than the participant, but such total reduction shall not exceed 40 per centum. The annuity of a survivor designated under this paragraph shall be 55 per centum of the reduced annuity computed as prescribed above.

(2) A participant, who is unmarried at the time of retiring and who later marries, may irrevocably elect, in a signed writing received in the Agency within one year after the marriage, a reduced annuity as provided in section 221(b). The reduced annuity is effective the first day of the month after the election is received. The election voids prospectively any election previously made under the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection.

* * * * *

(1)(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the monthly rate of annuity payable under subsection (a) of this section, shall not be less than the smallest primary insurance amount, including any cost-of-living increase added to that amount, authorized to be paid from time to time under title II of the Social Security Act.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, other than this subsection, the monthly rate of annuity payable under subsection (a) of this section to a surviving child shall not be less than the smallest primary insurance amount, including any cost-of-living increase added to that amount, authorized to be paid from time to time under title II of the Social Security Act, or three times such primary insurance amount divided by the number of surviving children entitled to an annuity, whichever is the lesser.

(3) The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to an annuitant or to a survivor who is or becomes entitled to receive from the United States an annuity or retired pay under any other civilian or military retirement system, benefits under title II of the Social Security Act, a pension, veterans' compensation, or any other periodic payment of a similar nature, when the monthly rate thereof, is equal to or greater than the smallest primary insurance amount, including any cost-of-living increase added to that amount, authorized to be paid from time to time under title II of the Social Security Act.

Before closing the accounts for each fiscal year, the Secretary shall credit to the fund, as a Government contribution, out of any money in the Treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, the following percentages of such amounts: 60 percent for 1976; 70 percent for 1977; 80 percent for 1978; 90 percent for 1979; and 100 percent for 1980 and for each fiscal year thereafter.

PART K--CONFORMITY WITH CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT SYSTEM

AUTHORITY TO MAINTAIN EXISTING AREAS OF CONFORMITY BETWEEN CIVIL SERVICE AND CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY SYSTEMS:

SEC. 292. (a) Whenever the President determines that it would be appropriate for the purpose of maintaining existing conformity between the Civil Service Retirement and Disability System and the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement and Disability System with respect to substantially identical provisions, he may, by Executive order, extend to current or former participants in the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement and Disability System, or to their survivors, a provision of law enacted after January 1, 1975 which:

(1) amends subchapter III, chapter 83, title 5, United States Code, and is applicable to Civil Service employees generally, or

(2) otherwise affects current or former participants in the Civil Service Retirement and Disability System, or their survivors.

Any such order shall extend such provision of law so that it applies in like manner with respect to such Central Intelligence Agency Retirement and Disability System participants, former participants or survivors. Any such order shall have the force and effect of law and may be given retroactive effect to a date not earlier than the effective date of the corresponding provision of law applicable to employees under the Civil Service retirement system.

(b) Any provisions of an Executive order issued pursuant to this section shall modify, supersede, or render inapplicable, as the case may be, to the extent inconsistent therewith--

(1) all provisions of law enacted prior to the effective date of the provision of such Executive order, and

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

Honorable Nelson A. Rockefeller
President of the Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Mr. President:

This letter transmits for the consideration of the Congress a draft bill to amend the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act of 1964 for Certain Employees, as amended.

Title I of the proposed legislation improves the financial soundness of the CIA retirement system by adopting the same funding procedures approved by the 91st Congress for the Civil Service and Foreign Service systems and as proposed to the 94th Congress for the Foreign Service system.

Title II conforms the CIA Retirement Act to changes approved in Public Laws 91-658, 92-243, 93-260, 93-273, and 93-474 for the Civil Service retirement system. Under these changes a widower of a female participant is accorded the same treatment as a widow of a deceased male participant; survivorship protection is extended to a spouse acquired after retirement under certain conditions; the definition of a child entitled to an annuity is expanded; the qualification of a surviving spouse is redefined; a full annuity is restored when the annuitant is not married; certain annuities are increased and a minimum annuity is established; and retirement credit is provided for periods of separation covered by compensation for work injuries. Title II also conforms the CIA Retirement Act to changes approved in Public Laws 89-554, 86-415, and 87-233 for the Civil Service retirement system. Under these changes recovery of payments may be waived in certain instances and credit as military service is given for certain service in the Public Health Service or the Coast and Geodetic Survey (now functionally within the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration). Further, Title II conforms the Act to Public Law 89-373 which revises the requirement to designate or change a beneficiary.

A number of the key features in the CIA Retirement Act are based upon Civil Service retirement provisions. Enactment of the proposed legislation will assure that the CIA retirement system remains in line with the Civil Service system in important areas concerning financial soundness and survivorship annuities. Title II also proposes an administrative procedure to facilitate the comparable adoption by the Agency system of future changes in the Civil Service system which are substantially identical to provisions in the Agency system. This is based on a similar proposal for the Foreign Service which was submitted to the 94th Congress.

We would appreciate early and favorable consideration of the proposed bill. The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection to presenting the proposed bill to the Congress from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

Sincerely,

W. E. Colby
